Work Will be Resumed

More Actively Than Ever With Appearance of Spring.

The Joplin Zinc Market New Machinery for the Ada Florence and Trumbo Mines.

Joplin, Mo.—February 26.—The highest price paid for zinc ore in the Joplin district last week was $56 per ton for the product of several leading mines. The basic price was practically unchanged at $54 to $55 per ton for 90 percent zinc. Some zinc sold at much less than the previous week.

Lead sold in Joplin for $57 per ton, and at Webb City as high as $59 was paid early in the week, and $58.50 per ton later. With the advent of moderate weather, instead of a noticeable break in the zinc ore market, the opposite is quite apparent. Very few bins sold at less than the previous week, while a number of bins brought a higher price, and the bulk of the ore was sold at prices practically the same as the previous week. The output was increased about 75 per cent., yet nearly every pound produced was sold, and almost all of it shipped. Hand Jig and Silicate ter, daughter of Jas. Carter, of Levias, is in the lead with 13 votes, and Miss Maud Baldwin, of Livingston county, and Miss Blanche Haase, daughter of the popular mine superintendent, T. H. B. Haase, of the Eagle Fluor Spar Co., operating in this district, are both close seconds with 12 votes each.

The other candidates that have been entered thus far are Miss Katie Carter, sister of the leading candidate, Miss Eddie Parker, another popular young lady of Livingston county, Miss Laflia Wilber, the pleasant and very popular assistant in the post office here; Miss Carrie Moore, a leading school teacher of the county who at present is teaching in Lockyear business college at Hopkinsville; Miss Edna Cole, of Frederica, an attractive young lady who frequently visits friends here; Miss Bertha Moore, the very pretty daughter of Bob Moore who has recently moved to the city from near Rodney; Miss Lenore Caldwell, a very attractive young lady of Shady Grove, and Miss Clara Crawford, daughter of G. B. Crawford, of John, and a sister of W. T. Crawford, the well known employee of the Farmers Bank of this city.

The results in detail of the first week's voting are as follows:

Clara Carter	16
Blanche Haase	12
Maud Baldwin	12
Clara Crawford	8
Bertha Moore	8
Lena Caldwell	4
Laflia Wilber	4
Carrie Moore	4
Katie Carter	4
Eddie Parker	4
Edna Cole	4

A Card.

To our VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY:

I came home from school on Feb. 13, for the purpose of making a thorough canvass of the county for the nomination at the primary to be held April 1 for assessor, but owing to illness I have been and am yet confined to my room and physicians advise me that I will not be able to be out for a week or ten days yet. It will not be possible for me to make a thorough canvass of the county before the primary, as I had intended to do, but I will see as many of you as I possibly can, and any favors shown me will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. ANTHONY DAVIDSON.

OWNS THEM

Henderson County Has Paid Last Note
Given for Her Gravel Roads.

The following brief history of the Henderson county gravel roads is reproduced from the Gleaner. It will prove interesting to our readers inasmuch as the question of gravel roads is frequently up for discussion in this county. The Gleaner says:

Henderson county now owns all the gravel roads within its boundaries, the last payment on the pikes being made by County Judge Hart Thursday.

The question of issuing bonds to extend the gravel pikes to the limits of the county may be submitted to the voters at the county election. If this is not done, the present levy will be used in making the extension.

Judge Hart paid $3,166.29 to the Henderson and Corydon Gravel Road Company Thursday. The amount was the last installment due from the county on the purchase price of $23,000 and included the tent which the county has paid to the company since the deal was first made. The deed to the road was turned over to the county. It was signed by James E. Rankin, Jr., secretary, and P. J. Martz, president of the company.

The county now owns nineteen miles of gravel road. On the Henderson and Corydon pike there are seven miles of improved roadway, for which there was paid $23,000. On the Henderson and Zion pike there are five miles, which cost $15,000, and on the Henderson and Cairo pike seven miles, which was bought for $22,000.

The effort of the county to own all the improved gravel roads dates back to 1897. The fiscal court on August 27 of that year adopted a motion to call an election for the purpose of issuing bonds to finance the construction of the roads. At the election two questions were submitted to the voters. The first was "Are you in favor of free gravel roads?" and the second "Are you in favor of issuing bonds for the purchase of gravel roads?" At the election the first question carried but the second did not.

On December 15, 1897, a motion was made in the court to purchase the gravel roads and a committee was appointed to confer with the presidents of the roads. The committee was composed of Magistrate W. Smith, W. W. Cooper and F. A. Beeson. At the April meeting the committee had agreed with the presidents of the roads and reported to the court. F. A. Beeson, W. Smith and George W. Woods were selected to represent the county in the negotiations.

will carry if submitted to the people, though it is likely to create no little agitation. The county is free from bonded indebtedness and could well stand the burden. If the question is not submitted at the election the present gravel road tax levy may be used in extending the pikes.—Morganfield Sun.

The Engineering Committee of the Isthmian Canal Commission has laid before that body the first definite plans for the construction of the waterway. They call for a sea-level canal with a bottom width of 150 feet and a minimum water depth of 35 feet, at a total estimated cost of $230,000,000. The time for the completion of the work is estimated at from ten to twelve years.

31-121

During the year 1904 County Clerk C. E. Weldon entered records of 371 transfers of real estate.

The inauguration of President Roosevelt, Saturday, March 4th, of the Republican party, and owing to the lassitude of time and the further fact that the next term of the circuit court is in March and will prevent me from seeing many of you before the primary, I therefore take this method of saying that

I am very anxious to serve you one term as county attorney, believing that I can discharge the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the people. Most of the people of this county know me, and my official acts are all matters of public record in the office of the county judge and county court clerk, and are open to the examination of all persons.

Should you give me the nominal effect of hastening the completion of the wells in the Kentucky and Tennessee fields Wayne county alone with the laying or fixing the amount of your tax, except in an advisory way, as that is fixed by the State and fiscal court of the county, composed of the county judge and justices of the peace of the county, supervised by the county and State boards of equalization, and the only duty the county attorney has to perform in this matter is to give legal advice when called on by any of the county officials and to represent the interest of the county in any matter coming before the courts or boards in which the county is interested.

If you believe me competent to perform these duties I will very much appreciate your support, and as to whether it is to your interest to vote for me or someone else is a matter I leave for the people to decide for themselves.

If I am given the nomination and elected I promise you that I will use all the energy and ability at the outlook. For nearly a third of a century it has been evident all the duties of the Standard have been fully and clearly defined and I will be found at my office at all reasonable hours, unless called away to the business of the duties of the office.

Thank you for past favors and again asking your support.

Yours very truly,
J. A. Moore

To the Voters of Crittenden County:

I am a candidate for the office of county attorney subject to the action of the Republican party, and owing to the lassitude of time and the further fact that the next term of the circuit court is in March and will prevent me from seeing many of you before the primary, I therefore take this method of saying that

that I can discharge the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the people. Most of the people of this county know me, and my official acts are all matters of public record in the office of the county judge and county court clerk, and are open to the examination of all persons.

Should you give me the nominal effect of hastening the completion of the wells in the Kentucky and Tennessee fields Wayne county alone with the laying or fixing the amount of your tax, except in an advisory way, as that is fixed by the State and fiscal court of the county, composed of the county judge and justices of the peace of the county, supervised by the county and State boards of equalization, and the only duty the county attorney has to perform in this matter is to give legal advice when called on by any of the county officials and to represent the interest of the county in any matter coming before the courts or boards in which the county is interested.

If you believe me competent to perform these duties I will very much appreciate your support, and as to whether it is to your interest to vote for me or someone else is a matter I leave for the people to decide for themselves.

If I am given the nomination and elected I promise you that I will use all the energy and ability at the outlook. For nearly a third of a century it has been evident all the duties of the Standard have been fully and clearly defined and I will be found at my office at all reasonable hours, unless called away to the business of the duties of the office.

Thank you for past favors and again asking your support.

Yours very truly,
J. A. Moore

She was a beautiful woman kind and affectionate and loved by all who knew her. She was Mr. Kidd's second wife, his first wife having been Miss Dora McGraw. In the grave yard at Good Hope the two girls lie side by side, and their heart-broken husband, who was so true to them in life, has the sympathy of all who know his sad story. Now and then Clemens, of Allen Springs, brothers of the deceased, got here for the funeral, which took place Friday.

Interesting Letter.

Gladstone, Ky., Feb. 11, 1905—
Editor—CONTINENTAL REVIEW.—I find while visiting my old home and surrounding parts that many are making preparations to try their fortunes in different parts of the West.

Now, if you will give me space I will tell them a few things about the great country of Arkansas, of which I have visited many parts and probably what little I can tell of it will be of benefit to some one.

Arkansas is an empire in extent in which are, as yet, thousands of acres of cheap land that will respond to every effort.

The climate is all that could be desired. The average altitude being 2,000 feet above the sea makes it a country of extreme healthfulness. It is above the zone of yellow fever and malaria is only known in the lower, swampy counties.

It is destined to become the home of a healthy, hardy race of people, and that which is true of the human race applies equally well to the health of all domestic animals.

There are springs of pure, clear water and flowing streams which abound with all kinds of fish for those who first occupy the beautiful land where flowers bloom perennially and the grass lives through the entire year.

Is this the kind of home you seek? If you do, there is danger in delay. This beautiful land is awaiting occupation today, but will not be vacant many years. Aside from the adaptability of these lands for agricultural purposes, there is a mild climate throughout the entire year where farmers are not, from necessity, compelled to expend the whole earnings of the summer to provide for the necessities of the winter.

The history of pioneer farmers who settled and developed the great country west of the Mississippi river in acquiring lands at two or three dollars per acre, and having them enhanced ten and twenty fold within a few years, thus creating wealth while enjoying the comforts of a life of industry, will be repeated in this new field, and with quicker results than have ever been realized in the past.

The person who seeks a home in Arkansas and expects to find it a paradise without effort on his part, will be disappointed there as elsewhere. Neither should the man who has nothing but his energy and muscle to depend upon, expect to realize the full extent of his hopes. To him that bath shall be given, as is true today as it was nineteen hundred years ago, even though his possessions be limited in extent.

It is essential to the fullest measure of success in this as in any new country, that a man has at least supplies to carry him through one season while he is learning to adapt his previous farming experience to the different requirements of that climate. He should have good teams, a few cows and sufficient means to acquire his land and build his home. No matter how humble for the man whose condition is such, there is no reason for a moment's hesitation.

Stock farming—which means some attention to stock in connection with crops, is the true method of agriculture in Arkansas. The man who has the good judgment to agree with this idea, and the intelligence to understand the condition of the climate and resources of the soil can find no fairer field in the entire universe where man will in a very few years have an independent income, increasing herds and flocks, waving fields of golden grain, bursting granaries, blooming orchards, convenient markets that can never be unstocked and a home of happiness and contentment which he has had the satisfaction of arranging for himself.

Where there are a number of families in a neighborhood who desire to emigrate to a new country they should organize into a colony and settle together. By this method they take with them an acquaintance and will thus be enabled to hold together and carry on.

their peculiar views in regard to church and school management.

In a financial way, colony organization can procure concessions and inducements from owners of town sites or large tracts of land, who will often make large donations for special purposes to secure their location, and thus assist in a more rapid development of the adjoining country. This is even more important to the colonists themselves as it gives them a settled community at once where otherwise it would require years.

It is not necessary to bring your household goods, as furniture can be obtained there at about the same price with the freight added. The same is true of farming tools. However, where several families are moving together and they cannot dispose of these things without loss it might be well to charter a car and ship their goods together.

Of course, you want to know about the game. The buffalo, once abundant in the western part, are now things of the past. The deer and antelope that kept the forest are the largest and best game. Fire-hunting, still-hunting and driving with hound and horn are the three modes of securing them. Wild turkeys afford a favorite sport to the early riser in the gadding season of the spring. Geese and ducks are yet plentiful on the rivers and creeks. Rabbits of different kinds, coons, squirrels, opossums, foxes, wolves, wildcats and panthers are found in all sections.

If any further information is desired about Arkansas, write to me with enclosed stamp at Pollard, Ark., and I will gladly tell you all I know.

Saying good bye to you and my old home, I am
Yours very respectfully,
JAMES E. BOURRS

ELEVEN RECRUITS

New Comers Who Will Take Seats in Senate on March Fourth.

The U. S. Senate is composed of ninety Senators, and after March 1 next the Republicans will have fifty-nine and the Democrats thirty-one. This count gives the Republicans a Senator from Delaware and a Senator from Missouri, now deadlocked as to choice. There will be eleven new Senators in the Senate. The new comers in the Senate will be:

Frank P. Flint, of California, to succeed Senator Thos. A. Bard, Republican.

Elmer J. Burkitt, of Nebraska, to succeed Senator Charles H. Duett, Republican.

Ex Senator Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, to succeed Senator Paris Gibson, Democrat.

Morgan G. Bulkeley, of Connecticut, to succeed Senator Joseph R. Hawley, whose health did not permit him to become a candidate for reelection.

George Sutherland, of Utah, to succeed Senator Thomas Kearns, Republican.

Isidor Raynor, of Maryland, to succeed Senator Louis E. McComas, Republican.

Gov. Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, to succeed Senator Jos. V. Quarles, Republican.

George S. Nixon, of Nevada, to succeed Senator William M. Stewart, Republican.

Mr. Raynor, of Maryland, is the only Democratic Senator to enter the Senate. Under the present policy of the President, and from his well-known and independent attitude on public questions, it is believed that La Follette, of Wisconsin, will often vote with the Democrats on important questions at issue.

"This is the Prophet. The one promised in Deut. 18: 15, 18.

V. 11 "This is the Christ." Arguing, doubtless, as before IV. 311, that none could do more beneficial work or speak more gracious words, or show more clearly that he was a representative of God, than did this Jesus of Nazareth.

V. 12 "Would have taken him." They could explain their strange inability to seize Jesus only by referring to His words, whose peculiar force they felt. All through His life it had been noted of Jesus' words that they were authoritative, and thus differed from those of the recognized teachers of the day, that they were winning, gracious, evidently were the words of God, and just such words as human hearts were hungry for.

Practical Points.

V. 13 God blesses us, not for ourselves alone, but to make blessings to others. "I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing." —Gen. 12: 3.

V. 14 Not without the Heavenly Father's permission can hostile bands be laid upon my child of God. "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper." Isa. 41: 17.

V. 15 Let the peculiar purity and grace of our conversation convince our hearers that we are Christians. "With your conversation let your conversation be as it becomes the Gospel of Christ." —Phil. 1: 25.
